MEDICINAL

Sidache, Backache, Headache.

And many other aches to which women are peculiarly subject are generally the result of a diseased condition of the womanly organism. When this diseased condition is cured, sidache, backache, headache, etc., are cured also.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. When these diseases are cured the aches they cause are also cured.

"I will drop you a few lines to-day to let you know that I am feeling well now," writes Miss Annie Stephens, of Belleville, Wood Co., West Va. "I feel like a new woman. I took several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have no headache now, no backache, and no pain in my side any more. No bearing-down pain any more. I think that there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's medicine. I thank you very much for what you have done for me—your medicine has done me much good."

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1000 pages, is given away. Send 21 one-cent stamps for expense of mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ENOCH ARDEN IN REAL LIFE.

Through a lawsuit brought in Kingston, N. Y., by Mary M. Harkness against Rachel A. Miller for the partition and sale of lands at Watson Hollow, in the heart of the Catskill Mountains, a story of a romance of bygone days with Enoch Arden features has been brought to light. Rachel Miller, the daughter of a prosperous mountain farmer, married John Cole in Winham, Greene county, in 1855.

When the civil war broke out Cole joined the Mountain Legion and went to the front. He was reported killed in action in 1862 and the wife believed her husband had been buried on the battlefield. Several years later Mrs. Cole, still young and pretty, met Samuel Eunist, a tanner, during a visit at Watson Hollow and was married to him.

Mr. and Mrs. Eunist were very happy in their married life and the couple had prospered. One day in the spring of 1870 a peddler stopped at the Eunist home. When Mrs. Cole went out to purchase some of the man's wares she noticed some of the man's wares she noticed her former husband. Instead of having been killed on the battlefield, Cole had been captured by the Confederates.

The situation was made more complicated by the fact that Cole, the soldier and peddler, was again married. He had returned to his mountain home and learned that his wife had become Mrs. Eunist. Instead of mourning her, after the fashion of Enoch Arden, Cole, having been told that he was free, sought another wife. He confessed this to his first wife and added that he had two children by the second Mrs. Cole. No tears were wasted, as both were lished, and Cole drove down the mountain valley, parting for all time from the woman who had been and still was his legal wife.

Eunist died three years ago, leaving no children, but considerable property. His sister, Mrs. Harkness, took steps to get this property, believing that Mrs. Eunist had no right to even a dower interest in the estate. Mrs. Harkness thereupon had herself appointed administratrix of the estate and began an action to have the property divided between her and a brother living in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Cole-Eunist, under her maiden name of Miller, has been made a defendant in the action. Realizing that she had no claim to the estate, because her marriage was not legal, Mrs. Cole-Eunist has filed a claim for services as housekeeper, which, if sustained, will leave little for those who are opposing her. The suits have been referred to a referee.

$340,000 INSURANCE.—It developed yesterday that P. C. Whyne, a Louisville, Ky., business man, who was found dead Wednesday night in the vicinity of Jacob Park, with a gunshot wound in the breast, carried insurance on his life of $340,000, and had applications pending for $50,000 more. Mr. Whyne had applied for a policy of $25,000 with the Manhattan company, and the policy was to issue December 22. Another application had been made to the Mutual of Vermont for an equal amount, and this policy was to be dated December 24.

It was upon the fact that Mr. Whyne carried such a large life insurance, and was said to be suffering from rheumatism, that a theory of suicide is based. Coroner Kelly went to the scene of the death yesterday morning. He said the circumstances were such that the case would require exhaustive investigation. The inquest will be held tomorrow. Near Mr. Whyne's body, but on the opposite side of a wire fence, was a shotgun with one barrel empty and the other loaded and cocked. His friends and family declare that death was due to accident and that the gun was discharged while he was climbing through the fence.

SEES DANGER.—Judge Alvez, a distinguished judge and former Venezuelan commissioner, in an interview yesterday pointed out dangers to American principles which, he says, are involved in the present difficulty in the Venezuelan troubles. The judge said:

"President Roosevelt should protest against what the allies have already done and what they evidently contemplate doing. The protest should be made when the Venezuelan ships were sunk. Great Britain and Germany apparently have an ulterior motive. If Secretary Hay has acquiesced in their plans, as he is said to have done, he has to a considerable degree surrendered the Monroe doctrine. The conduct of the allies indicates their settled purpose to destroy the Monroe doctrine. The difficulty should be settled by arbitration. If the worst should come to the worst, the United States government has a weapon which it would be entirely justified in using, and that would be to turn privateers loose upon the commerce of its antagonists."

BREAD.

ALEXANDRIA STEAM BAKERY.

To Get Rid of a Troublesome Corn.

First soak it in warm water to soften it, then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing the blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn for a few days, to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequaled. For sale by Richard Gibson, druggist.

What's in a Name?

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered, some years ago, how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for Piles, Blind, bleeding, itching and protruding Piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases. DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. E. S. Leadbeater & Sons.

Rev. John Reid, Jr., of Great Falls, Mont., recommended Ely's Cream Balm to me. I can emphasize his statement. "It is a positive cure for catarrh if used as directed."—Rev. Francis W. Poole, Pastor Central Presbyterian Church, Helena, Mont.

After using Ely's Cream Balm six weeks I believe myself cured of catarrh.—Joseph Stewart, Grand Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

The Balm does not irritate or cause sneezing. Sold by druggists at 50 cts. or mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., New York.
